The Word of God from the Sunday after the Ascension of the Holy Cross

I am embracing, after its so glorious fulfillment in heaven and on earth, the celebration at Maluri village, and its spirit and the hearts of those who have come with longing and faith, clothing them in the spirit of holy joy, the little garden of paradise in which I, the Lord, and all the guests of heaven stopped on the day of the celebration above the garden and above the village, blessed by My heavenly work with My trumpet, with Virginia, the child from Maluri village, with whom I wrote on earth a story of a hundred years (From the birth of Saint Virginia, r.n.) of My love, of tender words, of My longing for man, oh, that I no longer have man, I no longer have him, because in order to have him, he needs love for God, but time on earth oppresses man with the spirit of the world, of temporal nothingness, of the loss of love, oh, and this is why I have come to earth, as word!

I have prepared a trumpet to blow through it, so that My word and sigh and My search for man may be heard, and now I have comfort, I have a people with faith for My coming, for My word, that I cannot accomplish anything without man's faith in the works of God when they come to earth, oh, and the Father has given Me power and I have built a people for Me, and with him I am writing Myself and sharing the word of My mouth, I am speaking to man telling him from Me, and I am asking him to give Me a heart to dwell in it, so that there may be no more separation between Me and man, oh, and how difficult it is on earth for love, for God, sons, and here I am as a stranger traveling among men to help them to know Me, to believe Me, to open to Me, so that I may enter and dine with them, and they with Me, and this is My work with whom I stand on earth in the midst of the people of My word and the word of My mouth would not be silent day or night, My love for man, My longing that has been seven thousand years long, oh, but on earth all man is taught with time, and I am still wandering, lamenting My longing and consoling Myself with the people of My word, working with them sweet miracles and feast days, calling to My table the beautiful in soul, and there is no greater joy among those who dwell in heaven with God than such moments when I, the Lord, come with them to earth and give them comforts, sweet feasts at the table with the faithful on earth, with those who receive Me and give Me rest and sit serving Me, and share with them the news and the word of My coming, that the time has come for Me to return and prepare eternity and to establish it on holy earth, for God and His heaven are holy, and the Lord comes on earth with the saints, and all those separated from Him perish, as it is written, and the saints will inherit heaven and earth, and all creation will be renewed and will sprout, and the Lord is beginning from here, from where a hundred years ago the story and work of My word on earth began. Oh, sons of the citadel of My word, prepare to place My embrace in the book for the fulfillment of the celebration at Maluri village. You will catch your breath for a moment and we will rise to place My word in the book, to speak with you and with those who have gathered for the feast and with those who have not come, with those who believe and with those who do not believe, and My word will be confessed and will be placed on the path, for it is awaited by all, both the believers and the unbelievers, by those who are pure in heart and faith and by those who are so much Pharisees, so arrogant, for the battle is great between the two spirits, the spirit of God and the spirit of man, and man is arrogant in everything, and cannot see himself, for the spirit of the world believes itself to be immortal in man and erases the fear of God from the mind and heart of man, and the spirit of satan has life in the whole man, until he falls, crushed by time.

Let us open the book and place in it those that remained unseen at the seventy-year celebration of My word, for I have something to say, sons, I have a word to leave as a witness, and I am with those in heaven, who do not sit in their places until I, the Lord, place My word after the present celebration.

I am on the watch, I am with My trumpet, and I am waiting you to make My entrance, oh sons. Amen, amen, amen.

I am placing My word in its book and embracing the spirit of this land, the Romanian land, on which I, the Lord, have set a festive table to spend with the saints and with those who believe in My coming from the Father to men and they are welcoming Me and placing a feast for Me, and I am calling to the feast, for I am with the days of My wedding on this land, so sweet to Me, as it has been to My Father since the creation of the world, oh, how great are the unseen things of God's creation and placed on this land and above it, and how long they long to let themselves be seen and to share their glory and joy, and for the inhabitants of this land to see what a mystery, what a miracle is ready to come out from under the mystery and to give itself at least to those who have shared from heaven upon them the gift of faith and steadfastness, the gift of the love of God, a love full of the spirit of humility, and behold, the humility of man is the one that can bring heaven to earth for viewing, and I want to say about the celebration day at Maluri village, when I still see the spirit of the renewed garden now, the whole heaven of the village of Maluri (Maluri = banks, r.n.), received above the retinues of saints and angels in droves, and in the midst of them My trumpet, My Virginia, the one who was carrying Me for twenty-five years, with the fire of the Holy Spirit in her body, when through her I was speaking My word on earth, and now she is being carried by retinues of saints, because the saints have been waiting for seven thousand years for the Lord to come, to come with them, as it is written, (1 Thessalonians: 3/13)[2] and their longing for

[2] «And may he establish your hearts, blameless in holiness before our God and Father even to end, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His saints». (1 Thessalonians: 3/13)

My coming with them is growing and intensifying, and this must be fulfilled, and My humility encompasses these great mysteries within it and keeps them at the boundary between the seen and the unseen of God's creation, and the longing of those in heaven is growing and time, becoming more and more fearful, together with My coming to earth as word, oh, and I am leaving upon you My chosen fragrances, My Romanian country, and I am proclaiming to you over the earth with My word on your hearth, and I am preparing for you a glorious dress, oh, and I have called you to My seventy-year celebration of My word on your land waiting for you to listen to Me and coming to the celebration, but only a handful of hearts came out of all the ones who would have listened and come to My celebration, as beautiful as it was, and tears of longing and regret will flow from the eyes of many, for the Lord have been calling far and wide, and My country have not listened.

However, with those who have gathered from all over, I have written Myself between earth and heaven with this day of glory, and now I am placing the word after the celebration and I am blessing the Romanian land with the appearance of this miracle, the little garden of paradise from Maluri, I am dedicating it to the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, and I am placing angels and seals over it for the child who was born on this patch of earth a hundred years ago, when she was My trumpet, and she is now great in heaven, and has servants among the heavenly hosts.

And behold, Verginia, a day of heavenly glory over the place of your birth and childhood, and then of Christ's work with you on earth! Great was and is the unseen glory of this little garden, which now is appearing in sight and calling to it, and it is also a calling.

Throughout the day of the celebration, the angels have descended and marked everywhere with a heavenly seal and touching those full of longing who had arrived at the celebration. The little angels had notebooks and wrote down those who had arrived, and they wrote down those who had been called who did not listen to come, did not prepare and did not come, and they will stand face to face with this day of celebration and their spirit will weep for having said no to God, for having remained indifferent to My day of celebration.

And the angels have also investigated and written down those who prevented those who were called from coming, oh, and soon these will be revealed and will bear the shame and contempt of those who will find out their pagan work, opposed to Christ, oh, and thus the beautiful and the ugly will come to light, who have worked for or against My feast day at the Maluri, where I, the Lord, and My saints and the angelic retinues had sweet rest and secret work, hidden brilliance, so that those who came to the feast could approach, oh, that heaven worked a great deal, and the angels wrote much for testimony, for the spies sent gave the heavenly guards work and writing over the feast, that many had their tongues eaten and they were made to pull the latch, so that the many would not come near to come to the feast.

Behold, there has been much to be written and recorded for testimony, and all will be revealed, for heaven is working here, and the Lord is at work in this city, and all His adversaries will be exposed and ashamed, for thus it is written about such as these.

I have announced at the celebration that those who have come to the spring should be strong in faith, lest those who try to weaken them, those who are faithful to My word, may strike in their faith. Those who long for Me within them have received a special blessing, and therefore let them take care to remain in My love, for I, the Lord, am saying to them: remain in My love! My love in man is threatened, and therefore, I am speaking to you now, and I am urging you to search in My seventy-year-old word and learn from it how your life, fulfillment and daily step on your path to Me should be, for I, the Lord, have shown how the path of the people of My word should be.

You, who have joyfully dressed the little garden and its celebration, ask for heavenly grace, which will help you to become children of God by obeying His word in this time, when no one can and no longer wants to resemble God in life and nature, in love and humility, and especially in appearance, lest they resemble the children of this age and remain with those who perish.

And you, those who do not believe, having as your work the spirit of arrogance and disinterest in what comes from heaven to earth towards people to give them a hand and take them out from under the darkness and mist under which all people stand, oh, take note, your calculations will go wrong, for finally, you will come to your senses and you will know the error under which you have been dragged, oh, that a holy moment is coming from heaven in which all will know God and will find out from Him His walk on earth word for seventy years, and no one will have the strength to maintain their error and resistance with which they strike against God from everywhere, and it will be different, because the reward will be for the deed, and only this will remain to talk, oh, and therefore, you, unbelievers, arrogant, hardened in heart and head, stop, for the kingdom of God has approached with steps great and all the kings and all their servants will fall, for I, the Lord, now a foreign traveler from place to place, knocking at the gates that are not opening, will show Myself as King of creation, and after Me My kingdom will appear, a new heaven and a new earth, as it is written, and the unbelievers will end their arrogance and the fight against Me and My word walking on earth.

The garden feast at Maluri, is a sign, it is a great fulfillment, prophesied long ago for God to appear and work through this patch of land, for much news will travel from place to place, from hearts to hearts, and many will take the path of the kingdom and I will be their Shepherd, and much humility must be embraced by those who believe in My coming to earth as word, for satan works with the spirit of man, and man has no humility, no bowing, no self-denial and remains in his own, but those who believe and bow down will receive grace and will be able to work.

Now, I am speaking with My trumpet, and behold, Virginia, the earth of the garden in which you were born, now are wearing ornaments and has prepared itself for My coming with the saints. You are all but a longing, only a glance everywhere. I have arrived until today with My word, walking on the earth, as we have as a servant the youngest of the people who stood and listened to the word from God from time to time, and now with the youngest We are dividing according to the faith and deed of each one.

The people of all this time have been weak in obedience. It has been difficult for them to leave everything that is not beautiful and to bend down enough to bear much fruit. Now, I have gone out to the people, because those who are further away have always been more won over, more bent over to give us preparation and fulfillment in them. The path of man to heaven is arduous, and My path, the path of heaven on earth is still the same, because God does not find self-denial in man, and among those who have followed Me throughout this time, I have not found anyone who could have supported Me with the weight of the cross, with My coming to earth, My little Virginia.

The day for the garden celebration at Maluri, have passed, and We have left with the work ahead. You are in amazement among the saints now and you are looking deeply at Our least ones, and even if you had been in pain for so many years on earth, and then in heaven because of the disobedience of the people who went through this work, behold, you are rejoicing that We are moving forward in our work, that you are the engine and the thread from above through which I, the Lord, am working on earth through the least ones, for the gift and grace of My time with you has been carrying the work further on earth, and behold, the word is going, that We have a path prepared and protected by powers from above, and satan is frowning, fearing and seeking his servants giving them work to spy, to lie in wait and to mislead those who give to come and believe, oh, but it is no longer as before, for I have untied the path for all those who desire a holy life and many will continue to flow to the source, to My word, and they will gain wisdom and longing of heaven on earth.

However, now peace to you, comfort to you from those who love Us, working on Our path on earth, and from place to place then among people, and I want you to have comfort and to keep seeing how the buds open their flower, how Our work blossoms over the earth and gives Us strength to go, sow the earth and water from above and let living fruit grow, paradise with its flowers, and which may share its fragrances far and wide filling the wandering world and drinking with a spirit foreign to those in heaven with longing for heaven, oh, for the fulfillments of the last Scriptures are coming, they are coming, My little Verginia, they are coming.

And now, let Us give Our embrace to those who are, and there will be more and more who will seek Us and follow Us, after We have written Ourself on earth with the sweet celebration of the seventy years of word on the land of the Romanian nation, Me and you in the work of the Holy Spirit over the peoples, and We will urge everyone to wear the wedding garment, the Romanian shirt, the garment of the Romanian nation, but also the language spoken by the Romanians, for this nation, with all that is of God upon it, is the nation and the land of My return from the Father to the people, for I said that I would come again, and when I come I will draw everyone to the Father.

And now peace to you among those in heaven, My little Virginia!

And peace to you, children sharing God, for heaven has work with you on earth and great fulfillments are coming, they are coming and keep coming, for their time has come to come, and do not forget that the Father has been working until now, but I, too, may be able to always work, and with you is My work on earth, with you, the last ones, and therefore, you must remain, remain in My love, oh, children! Amen.

And now, the groups of saints who came to the celebration at Maluri, are sitting in their place, and everything has been written on earth and in heaven, so that everything would be a written testimony. Amen, amen, amen.
